THE WILLCUTS FAMILY TREE

The Willcuts' were originally Scotch. While living in Scotland they left the Roman Catholic Church and became Covenanters, later called Presbyterians. This is supposed to have happened in 1643. When the Covenanter trouble with the church of England took place, the Willcuts' being peace lovers, moved to Ireland, not far from Dublin. After some years here, where they intermarried with the Irish, they became Quakers. Again, because of religious persecution, some of them moved to North Carolina, where the Quaker leader, George Fox, had established a church about 1671. For many of the early years in America, when you saw a Willcuts, you saw a Quaker.

It seems that many of them were farmers and carpenters and very few with military records, as most were excused as religious objectors. Calvin, born in 1841, died in service in the Civil War near Memphis, Tennessee and is the only one of which we have a record of military service to that time.

The first name we have is Thomas and wife Milley. These names were taken from the "Encyclopedia of Quaker Records", by William Wade Hinshaw. Another book, "Reminiscences" by Levi Coffin, mentions a "David Willcutts".

There is a Quaker Church and Academy at Fountain City, Indiana, and a Friends Church and College at Guilford, North Carolina, where some records of the Willcuts' are to be found.

We have tried to put together what facts we have been able to get from various sources and have put them down as they were given to us. It is very difficult to find people with definite knowledge.

We have not been able to establish the original spelling of the name, "Willcuts". It is spelled several different ways in telephone books, but all the names we have, used this spelling. All of us have, I am sure, had our name spelled wrong about as often as right, so I feel that mostof the names spelled similar came from the same source.

We have made no attempt to record the birth place of any of them as we have very few of the places. If you have additional names and dates, we will attempt to put them in their proper places.
